King Manuel, Said to be on Verge of Collapse, Will be Placed in Care of English Specialists in London

Will Leave Gibraltar For Great Britain, Where Asylum Is Offered Him—Admiral Takes His Own Life.

Gibraltar, Oct. 10.—King Manuel and the queen mother, Amelie, exiled from Portugal, have decided to go to England, where an asylum is offered them. It is said today by the king's courtiers that he is on the verge of a complete collapse and that he will be placed in the care of specialists as soon as England is reached.

The fugitive royal family of Portugal left the yacht Amelie and are now the guests of the governor at the government house. The yacht sailed for Lisbon. She will enter the harbor without displaying any flag and will be turned over to the government.

The people of Gibraltar gave the exiles a warm welcome. When they attended mass at St. Mary's church the edifice was crowded.

Martyr of the Revolt.

LISBON, Oct. 10.—Admiral Canidio Reis, who committed suicide on his flagship, has taken a place in the minds of the populace alongside the other so-called martyrs of the revolution, Dr. Bombarda, whose assassination was the occasion for an outburst which led up directly to the events of the past few days.

Admiral Reis took the initiative in precipitating the revolutionary movement among the vessels of the fleet which lay anchored off Lisbon. He had agreed with the other Republican naval leaders that a salute of four guns should be the signal on each boat apprising them of the success of the revolution.

In despair he drew his revolver and fired a shot into his head, dying at once.

The expulsion of monks has begun. Several hundred nuns have been deported. Cardinal Neo, patriarch of Lisbon, Bishop Beja and other residents have been expelled.

It is estimated that between 5,000 and 6,000 monks and nuns will be expelled.

Senor Barreto, the new war minister, estimates the killed and wounded in the revolution at 800.

A telegram, announcing the sudden death of his sister, Mrs. Chloe Atkinson, wife of Mr. John Atkinson, and formerly of this city, was received last night by Mr. Charles Johnson, of 421 Clark street. She died at 7 o'clock last night of heart trouble. It came as a shock to the family and her many friends in this city.

Mrs. Atkinson was formerly Mrs. Chloe Wilson and was born and reared in Paducah. She was the daughter of Captain Joseph Johnson and was a member of the Presbyterian church. About four years ago she moved to St. Louis, where she met Mr. Atkinson and they married. She was 42 years old.

Surviving her are her husband, one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, and four sons, Messrs. Mendal, Joseph, Leslie and James Wilson, all of St. Louis. She also leaves two brothers, Mr. Charles Johnson and Mr. Joseph Y. Johnson.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Race War Imminent

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 10.—A race war is imminent today at Dawson, Okla., east of here, as a result of the killing of Deputy Sheriff Charles Stamps by negroes yesterday. The blacks are ordered to leave town. Five negroes are in jail, charged with the killing, under heavy guard.

Colonel John L. Vance, of Columbus, O., president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, will arrive here tomorrow morning and tomorrow night will be the guest of the Paducah Commercial club at their dinner at the Palmer House. He will address the members of the club and all citizens are urged to be present to hear him. While here Col. Vance will be the guest of Secretary Sanders A. Fowler, of the Commercial club. The efforts of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association have met with success and government engineers are now working between Paducah and Cairo making surveys for the two locks and dams required to complete the system of the improvement—a nine foot stage. Colonel Vance is optimistic in regard to the river improvement.

DIES WHILE FIRE RAGES IN HOUSE WHERE HE LIVED

Joe Martin Passes Away on Sidewalk, to Which His Cot Was Carried.

Ship Carpenters Go to Metropolis Funeral.

DEATH FROM DIPHTHERIA

While fire raged in the boarding house of J. W. Burton, 321 South Third street, Joe Martin, an aged ship caulk, lay dying in a room. Willing hands removed his bed to the sidewalk, where he died in a short time. He was never conscious after the fire broke out. The house is one of the oldest in the city, and was not damaged seriously.

Martin was 72 years old, and was a ship caulk at the Paducah marine ways. For several days he was not working and was taken seriously ill last night. He has been in Paducah about a year, coming here from St. Louis. Little is known of his relatives, but he is said to have come from a good family. He has a daughter in Cincinnati and a daughter in St. Louis. His body was removed to the morgue of Mitti, Efinger & Roth, pending word from relatives.

The first broke out in a croton on the lower floor, where bed clothing was stored. No cause is given for the fire, although it is presumed that rats gnawed matches. The flames spread up the walls, but hose companies Nos. 1 and 4 checked the fire before it spread. The building is owned by E. W. Bagby and was erected many years before the Civil war.

Martin was in a room on the south side of the boarding house, while the fire was on the opposite side of the hall. For fear that the flames might spread to his room, his bed was carried to the sidewalk, where he died.

The fire was heralded by a shower of burning brands which swept across Beaudette river. The inhabitants had scarcely time to board the front porch waiting before the town was on fire. Sick people apparently by the score appeared and were carried or assisted to points of safety.

There were five patients in the Carrigan's hospital, which burned. One woman who had given birth to a child at five o'clock the same evening had to be carried to the office of the physician. The front porch was on fire and the patients were carried to safety.

The building of Shevin-Mathieu Lumber company are practically the only structures left standing in Spooner, not even a tree, fence, or foot of sidewalk being in sight. There are not even heaps of debris. Everything was entirely licked up.

The property loss in Rainy river Beaudette and Spooner alone, including the Rat Portage Lumber company's plant and the yard at Rainy river and the yard of the Shevin-Mathieu Lumber company at Spooner will total about $1,500,000.

Forest Fire Destroys Many Towns On Minnesota-Manitoba Border and Snuffs Out Hundreds of Lives

Worst Disaster In Fifteen Years Reaches News Agencies This Morning—Thousands Homeless Wanderers

Warroad, Minn., Oct. 10.—At least 200 persons have perished in the forest fires, which have raged in this district for the last three days, and the death roll may reach 750 to 1,000, according to information received at Warroad, in the heart of the burning district at noon today.

The towns of Beaudette and Spooner are completely wiped out, while the villages of Grazeton, Swift, Roosevelt, Pitt and Cedar Spur have been destroyed.

Worst in 15 Years.

Warroad, Oct. 10.—The greatest catastrophe in Minnesota that has occurred since the Hinckley horror 15 years ago, occurred Friday night and Saturday when the whole of the Minnesota-Manitoba boundary country was swept by fire and as the details become known the disaster assumes appalling proportions. The number of deaths is estimated from 100 to 200, almost entirely among the settlers of the woods around the towns of Beaudette, Pitt, Roosevelt and Graceeton. Very few settlers are known to have escaped. This estimate will likely fall considerably short of the actual number. The scenes are horrible. People lost their homes completely. The streets of the towns are strewn with personal belongings.

Crowds of able bodied men ran pell-mell to board the waiting train from Beaudette to the exclusion of women and children and refused to assist in saving property. An east bound freight went through the burned country near Pitt. Pitt burned at 7 o'clock Friday night. A hurricane was blowing and within ten minutes after the appearance of the fire the inhabitants of the town were forced to flee, being unable to save anything.

The first was heralded by a shower of burning brands which swept across Beaudette river. The inhabitants had scarcely time to board the front porch waiting before the town was on fire. Sick people apparently by the score appeared and were carried or assisted to points of safety.

These fires have been smoldering in that district for months. They were started anew by the terrific wind which began two days ago. A wave of flame over a hundred feet high and as long extended as far as half a mile wide. It was this situation that caused so many to perish on the railway track. They sought this opening in the brush but perished.

Tells Thrilling Story.

JAMES RAMSEY, of Spooner, said:

"I was several miles south of Beaudette when I first heard the roar of the flames. I started to run for town but the fire was coming fast and was close. I caught up with a man who was accompanied by a

"WHAT IT COSTS TO BE A CHRISTIAN"

And Not to Be

Dr. Torrey Addresses Crowd of Nearly 5,000 People at Auditorium Sunday Night—Several Rise For Prayers Program For Week.

Several conversions resulted from the Torrey meeting at the Auditorium last night, when between 4,000 and 5,000 people crowded the big building to hear the famous speaker. This is the first visible fruit of the meeting.

Dr. Torrey was at his best last night before the immense crowd. His subject was, "What It Costs Not to Be a Christian."

Both Mr. Kinsey and Mr. McEwan sang, the former just before the sermon and the latter at its conclusion. These features, together with the chorus choir work, added greatly to the beauty and effectiveness of the service.

Song service will begin each night this week at 7:30, followed by a sermon by Dr. Torrey. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock a special service for children will be held. At 7:30 again that night Dr. Torrey will preach to adults.

Each morning at 10 o'clock Dr. Torrey lectures on the Bible and at 11:15 the Rev. Mr. Jacoby talks on how to use the Bible.

Dr. Torrey's sermon last night was:

"I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto Thy Testimonies." —Psalm cxv. 59.

A good many years ago I was talking to a young society lady in the city of New Haven in America and suddenly she stopped me and said, "Don't talk that way; it makes me think, and I hate to think." The world is full of people who hate to think, and because they hate to think they go into things blindfolded, and come out with blighted hope and broken hearts and blasted life.

It is so in business. How many a business man there is in this city tonight who a few years ago had a business proposition made to him, and instead of sitting down, as every long-headed business man would do and thinking it all over, and figuring it all out as to how much money he would have to put into that investment before he realized, how many years it would be before there was any adequate return, and what interest on his money there would be, just because he promised well on the surface he accepted the proposition without sufficient thought regarding it he just put his money into that project and left it there, and that man's life ever since has been a wretched drag for a bare existence. Simply because he hated to think!

It is the same way in social life. How many a young woman has met at some social gathering a handsome attractive young man, a young fellow who is a fine waltzer, and popular and attractive in all his ways; and one night that young man makes a proposal of marriage to her, and instead of sitting down, as any sensible girl would do, and asking herself whether that man has the mental and moral qualities that fit him to be a companion for life, just because he is handsome, because he is attractive and popular, because he is a beautiful waltzer, that young woman accepts his proposal of marriage and marries him; and after a few months she wakes up one day to find that she has married a fool, or, what is worse, a rascal. And all that woman's future life is wretched beyond description, just because she hated to think.

But there is no place where that mistake is made so often and where it is so fatal as in the matter of being, or not being, a Christian. Men and women go into a Christless life, drift on it, in, without even once sitting down to give the question

AN OLD-TIME PRESCRIPTION

In a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

SISTER SUPERIOR.

My father was well off in this world's goods; and as a boy of 30 minutes' honest consideration, 15 I was sent off to the university and matriculated for a degree, and my father sent me up all the money I wanted.

Now, if you put a boy into a university, who learns easily and has no trouble to keep up with his class, a boy with a rich father, who does not ask him how he spends his money—I have often thought it would have been a good thing for me if he had—if anybody can have a good time, he can, and I went in for a good time. Did I find it? You know whether I did or not. I did not. And I went deeper, deeper, deeper into dissipation and sin to find joy to satisfy my unsatisfied heart.

I did not find it, and one awful night, a mere boy still, with all hope gone, with life desolate and bare, life so barren that there was just one step between me and hell, in fact, that very night I started to take that awful step, to take my life by my own hand. I sprang out of bed and drew open a drawer to take out the instrument that would end my life. For some reason or other I could not find it. God did not let me find it, and I dropped upon my knees, and said, "O God, if you will take this awful burden from my heart, I will preach the Gospel;" and God not only removed the burden, I found a joy I had never dreamed of in this world, and all the years since it has gone on increasing with the exception of a short time when I fell under the blighting power of scepticism and agnosticism; all the rest of the time all these years the joy has grown brighter, brighter, brighter every year. Young men and women, if you want the deepest, sweetest, purest, most overflowing joy there is to be known on earth, come to Jesus Christ.

Hope Gone.

In the third place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of peace. A Christian has peace: "Being justified by faith, we have peace with God through the Lord Jesus Christ." —Romans, v. 1. And having peace with God we have peace in our hearts, but no man out of Christ has peace. "There is no peace for the wicked," saith my God."

One night in Chicago, after a meeting like this, when the congregation had gone out, I went and sat down in a seat by the side of a gentleman about 25 years of age, and I said, "My friend, why are you not a Christian?"

"Oh," he said, with a shrug of his shoulders, "I am very well satisfied as I am."

I said, "You haven't peace."

He said, "How do you know that?"

I said, "Because God says so; there is no peace for the wicked."

The man dropped his head, and said, "You are right, sir, I haven't peace."

And there is not a man or woman in this audience tonight out of Christ that has peace. Money won't give you peace; the pleasures of this life won't give you peace; no number of good earthly friends will give you peace; not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of peace.

A man says, "I do not believe it."

Yes, you do; I will prove it to you in five minutes. Suppose you had your choice tonight between being a millionaire and having all that money can buy for tonight, with no hope for tomorrow, but with the rising of tomorrow's sun and the opening of tomorrow's banks to be proved to be an embezzler, and all your money swept away, and you cast into prison to spend the rest of your life there; or to be absolutely penniless tonight, but with the absolute certainty that with the rising of tomorrow's sun and the opening of tomorrow's banks you were to be a millionaire all the rest of your life, which would you choose?

"Oh," you say, "that is very easy; I would choose to be penniless tonight, with the certainty that tomorrow and all the rest of my life I was to be a millionaire."

A real Christian? You know there are two kinds—professing Christians and real Christians.

Now I will admit that there are a great many people in the world that call themselves Christians, who have just enough religion to make themselves miserable. They are holding to the world with one hand, generally the right hand, and to Jesus Christ with the other. Of course, they have not joy unspeakable and full of glory.

So would I, but that only shows that you believe that hope for the future is more important than present possession; and I would rather be the poorest child of God in the world tonight, with the absolute certainty that with the dawning of eternity I was to be for all eternity an heir of God and joint-heir with Christ, than to be the richest man on earth tonight out of Christ, with no outlook for all eternity but to be cast into God's eternal prison-house of hell.

But show me a Christian who has dropped the world with both hands, and laid hold of Jesus Christ with both hands, and I will show you a man or woman that has joy unspeakable and full of glory. How Satan deceived me along that line for many years when I was a mere lad!

I went one day up to the third story of our home, where we had a great storeroom where we put away the old books out of the library, and as a boy I loved to go and sit on the floor of that room, and get the books around me and look through them, and one day I came across the covenant of the church of my mother, and commenced to read it, and I said to myself, "I wonder if I cannot be a Christian?" I can say "Yes" to that, and can say "Yes" to that, and that, and after a time I came to a place where it said something to this effect, "If I became a Christian I was to be willing to do anything God said, and go anywhere He said."

I shut up the book and said, "No, just as likely as not I'll have to be a preacher if I say 'Yes' to that, and then life won't be worth living."

And I threw that book away and deliberately refused to take Jesus Christ, and deliberately refused to think about it any more. Then I said to myself, "I am going in for all the pleasure I can get;" and I had a good opportunity to get it.

My father was well off in this world's goods; and as a boy of

THE DAYLIGHT STORE

A man out of Christ has no hope, even from the life that now is, that is at all sure.

You say, "That is too strong; a man out of Christ may have no hope for the future, but if he is rich he has for the present life."

You are mistaken. Come with me to New York City. We walk up Fifth avenue; we stop before one of the most elegant mansions there; we go up the steps and are ushered through the hall down to the library at the end of the hall. You and I stand there on the threshold and look into the library. In it there are two men deep in earnest conversation. This is not an imaginary case, but an actual one. One of these men is worth one hundred and ninety-six millions of dollars, by an actual inventory of his property taken a few days after the time of which I am speaking. The other man is one of America's greatest financiers.

Friends, we all of us here tonight are like men standing on the seashore looking out over the boundless ocean of eternity, and as we look out, there comes towards some of us—those of us who have a living faith in Jesus Christ—gallant vessels laden with gold and silver and precious stones, with every sail set, wafted swiftly towards us by the breezes of the divine favor.

But toward the rest of us—those out of Christ—as we look out over the boundless ocean of eternity, there come no vessels, but dismantled wrecks, with no cargoes but the livid corpses of lost opportunities, over which are hovering the vultures of eternal despair, driven madly towards us by the fast-rising blasts of the indignation of a holy and an outraged God. That is what it costs not to be a Christian.

Manhood Gone.

And I stand there and look in, and you say, "Well, I would like to be in that man's shoes. One hundred and ninety-six million dollars! I do not know anything about his religious convictions, but he is well fixed for many years to come so far as this life is concerned."

4. In the next place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of the highest manhood and the highest womanhood.—Have you ever thought of it, that we have all fallen away from God's ideal of manhood and womanhood through sin?

Paul puts it in his tremendous way, "We have all sinned and come short of the glory of God;" all fallen short of God's ideal of manhood; and the only way back to it is by the ac-

Honesty needs no pains to set itself off.—Edward Moore.

F. O. Watts, of Nashville, who has many relatives in Paducah, was elected president of the American Bankers' association at Los Angeles.

THE GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD.

Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, staked his reputation on the opinion that if the Payne law was enacted, high prices would follow. He would have taken about the same risk if he had predicted that they preceded the bill. All during the panic of 1907, when men everywhere were thrown out of work, prices continued to increase. Now, strangest of all, the articles which increased most in price and are increasing most in price, are those, which are not protected by the tariff. It is not the price of steel and silk and champagne that worries the average citizen, it is the price of butter and eggs and flour and meat and potatoes. These are produced by the farmer, and he is the fellow, who is reaping the benefit of high prices.

The wage scale is not bothering the farmer, as it is the manufacturer, and the middleman. In Europe conditions are much worse, and the disparity between the cost of living and the scale of wages is much graver. Over here salaried men can, by economy and thrift—and God forbid that the time will come when these two virtues are not forced on me—acquire home; but they can't over there.

Odd that the Payne bill should have started prices mounting five years before it was suggested, and that its operations should extend over the known civilized world; but that is what one must admit, if he argues that the Payne bill is responsible for the high cost of living.

PORTEGO'S NEW PRESIDENT.

It was a coincidence, worthy of passing comment, that when the overthrow of the Portuguese dynasty came and the new republic was declared, the recently elected president of Brazil, an offshoot of Portugal, should be present. He represents it his office a reminder of Portugal's one time high place among maritime nations. The new president of Portugal, Braga, is a free thinker, a positivist, and a man hated by conservatives, and returning that hate with interest. His own life story, indicates how that hatred was burned in, and may give cause some apprehension less it may indicate a lack of breadth, such as is necessary for a man at such a crisis in a nation's career.

There is an unconscious revelation of the manner of man who now is at the head of national affairs in this brief autobiography. President Braga wrote a few weeks ago at the request of a Paris newspaper:

"At the age of 3 he lost his mother and was tormented by a terrible stepmother until 1881. Then he left his father's house and went to Coimbra university with a small sum received for a volume of verse which he published at Ponta Delgada."

"At Coimbra his life was an obscure struggle because of lack of means. He bore up in this struggle

TENN. DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

Taylor's Nomination Will Not Avail.
The "Harmony" convention had what was expected when Senator Taylor was nominated for governor, hoping thereby to overcome the tidal wave of true Democracy by the personal popularity of their candidate, but they have "reckoned without their host."

The questions at issue are of too serious a nature to be lost in the whoop and halloo of a whirlwind campaign, and "Our Bob" by allying himself with the Patterson Democrats has simply joined the "Down-and-Out Club" of political "Has Beens."

The Independent Democrats of Tennessee, who are the true representatives of the great party of Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, and Isham G. Harris, are supporting Capt. Ben W. Hooper, not as a Republican, but as an honest man who has accepted their nomination and stands upon the platform enunciated by them, and who accepts their support as Democrats, who are and will remain staunch adherents to the principles of the party which they are seeking to redeem from the domination of the most undemocratic political machine which ever existed in this country.—Jackson Sun.

Senator Taylor's Candidacy.

The nomination of Senator Taylor as a candidate for governor by the convention, composed in the main of delegates representing the Patterson wing of the Democratic party, will in our judgment have no appreciable effect upon the result in November.

Senator Taylor has in the past had a strong hold on the Democratic masses of Tennessee, but in his campaign for the United States senate against the late Senator Carmack the vote indicated that the opposition to Taylor was of about equal strength and nothing had occurred since to justify the conclusion that Senator Taylor is stronger now than he was in his race for the senate. On the contrary, evidence is not wanting to indicate that the senator has lost much of his former prestige.

There may, and doubtless will be, a few Democrats here and there who will be influenced by the cry of party regularity and harmony, but the rank and file of independent Democrats who supported the candidacy ticket in August will stand together in support of Hooper in November. The cry of "regularity" and "harmony" has lost much of its force and influence by reason of the extraordinary conditions with which the state has been confronted during the past eight months.

Sympathy for Bob.

The loyal "untraded" Democrats of Tennessee have spoken in a convention of their own making; have adopted a platform to their own liking and selected the man nearest to their own hearts as their standard bearer—Robert L. Taylor. We had hoped that the party would not exact this sacrifice of Senator Taylor, but that they would find some other man from among the long list of capable, loyal leaders to assume the responsibility, but no man can question the sincerity of their choice and the spontaneousness of their sovereign will, and like a man who realizes his obligations to the people who have so often honored him, Senator Taylor has yielded, and we with all other well-wishers of the commonwealth join in acquiescence to the majority rule.

Now let's have done with this pretense of superior morality and this hypocritical cant about "the God and morality" uplift of the Republican party. To continue it will be to take the people for simpletons and the voters for intellectual imbeciles.

There is no Pattersonism with which to conjure up hate and revenge and boshism in the name of Robert L. Taylor.

The issue is clearly joined—the Democracy, the free and untraded electorate against the machinations of the most consummate machine ever invented by political bosses.—Chattanooga Times.

It is in recognition and appreciation of this act that the masses of independent Democrats will stand together in the support of the fusion candidate for governor, and not only because of this but also because Capt. Hooper has shown himself to be a conscientious, capable and courageous man to whom the masses may with unconquerable pride and in 1872 he presented himself as a candidate for a professorship of modern European literature.

"All the conservative elements were opposed to him—Catholics, monarchists, metaphysicians, ultra-romanticists, and journalists in the government's pay—but the public acclaimed him and forced the ministry to appoint him. Braga is considered an enemy by the conservative classes because he is a republican to politics, a free thinker, and as regards philosophy introduced positivism into Portugal. That suffices to make him detested."

Tenth Street Christian.

Splendid services with special music were enjoyed yesterday at the Tenth Street Christian church. The pastor, the Rev. G. B. Wyatt, delivered two strong sermons. Before Ten, preached Sunday morning and evening at Grace Episcopal church in the absence of the Rev. Mr. Howard Kimsey, one of the co-workers with Dr. Torrey, delivered two solos.

Five Baptized.

Five converts to the North Twelfth Street Baptist church were baptized in the Ohio river at the foot of Broadway at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon by the pastor, the Rev. J. R. Clark. Last night after his sermon on the subject of "Jesus, the Mighty To Save," there were three additions to the church by letter. Yesterday morning he preached on the subject of "The Conquest of Death."

Influence.

"Influence" was the subject of the Rev. G. B. Smalley's sermon yesterday morning at the Second Baptist church. Last night he preached on the subject of "The Ark a Type of Christ."

One Service.

Only one service was held at the German Evangelical church yesterday, that being at night. The pastor, the Rev. H. M. Wiesecke was in Brookport Sunday morning and at night preached on the subject of "Confirmation and Revival" at which time he endorsed the Torrey revival and urged the congregation to attend the services.

Talks to Young Folk.

As a result of a talk on the subject of "Leading a Christian Life," given yesterday morning by Dr. McDowell on "The Blackslider, and How God Deals With Him." He reviewed the chastisement received by God's people when at the height of their success forgot Him. At the conclusion of the sermon there were several additions to the membership by letters, and others gave promises to live better lives. The usual evening service was held with baptism at the close.

Yesterday morning Mr. William E. Eley, soloist with Dr. Torrey, sang the morning offering.

Presbyterian Missions.

The Rev. H. W. Burwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, reported to the congregation yesterday morning that at the recent meeting of Paducah Presbytery at Marion, the Presbytery decided to dissolve relations with the synodical home mission committee, and hereafter the presbytery will look after the mission work in its own territory and all the money raised by these churches will be devoted to mission work within the presbytery. The Synod has devoted most of its efforts to the mountain work and the Men's Bible class was addressed by Mr. William H. Leavitt, the American artist now exhibiting his picture "The Last Supper" in Paducah.

Miss Anne Bradshaw sang a beautiful soprano solo at the morning service.

Dr. Burwell's subject was "A Retrospect, Involving a Responsibility," in which he recited the duty and obligation of the church and its membership with regard to the gospel preached to it during a half century, and calling upon the members to Mayor James P. Smith has returned from Chicago and Springfield, Ill. At the state fair Saturday he saw Hoxsey in his bi-plane defeat Barney Oldfield's "bullet on four wheels," and witnessed Hoxsey's start on his marvelous St. Louis flight. At Springfield he concluded the state game warden, an authority on rags, regarding bloodhounds, and is in communication with other parties, in regard to securing a pack for the use of the night.

The services yesterday were well attended ad the program was carried out. The regular monthly business meeting of the congregation will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church school house.

Grace Episcopal.

The Rev. Robert W. M. Black, rector of Grace church, Memphis, delivered two strong sermons. Before Ten, preached Sunday morning and evening at Grace Episcopal church in the absence of the Rev. David Cady Wright, who is attending the general convention of the Episcopal church in Cincinnati.

Mr. Black is an eloquent and gifted preacher, a native of state of Georgia and typically Southern. His sermon Sunday morning was a strong and illuminating exposition of the text, "So is the kingdom of God as if a man should cast seed into the ground and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how." The thoughts were presented in a clear and forcible way.

At the evening service from the things which are before."—Phil. 3:13. Mr. Black gave an uplifting and optimistic discourse.

The music was especially good. Mrs. Letta Wade Lewis and Miss Puryear were the soloists.

Church Notes.

The Willing Workers' society of the German Unity Evangelical church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Runge, of Broadway. The Young Ladies' society, of the First Presbyterian church will elect officers Tuesday afternoon at the church.

The Rev. Thomas Warner, a noted Congregationalist of Newark, O., is the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Wiesecke, of South Fifth street this week.

DEFENDING HOME

JURY SO DECIDED AND ACQUITTED TED DRAKE.

Also His Sister, Jennie Lynn, Was Set Free at the Murder Trial.

Both Jim Drake and his sister, Jennie Lynn, were acquitted late Saturday afternoon on the charge of the murder of John Gibson. The jury deliberated the case for over 24 hours. Shortly after 3:30 o'clock Circuit Judge William Reed called for the jury to report. The jurors announced that they had agreed upon a verdict of not guilty for Jennie Lynn, but had failed to agree as to the fate of Drake.

They asked instruction regarding the law on a man defending his home, and then retired. In less than ten minutes the jurors reported for a second time and acquitted Drake. Drake and his sister both thanked the jurors as they left the court house, the prisoners in the county jail whooped and yelled for joy. Gibson was shot and killed at the home of Jennie Lynn, 822 Harris street.

For many years Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been very successful in the treatment of heart troubles, because of its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles. Notes and Personals.
The gauge at 7 a.m. showed 21 feet of water, indicating a rise of 1.4 feet since Sunday or 4.3 feet since Saturday.

With a good trip of freight and passengers the Bob Dudley arrived at 6 o'clock this morning from Nashville and departed at noon for a return trip. Her cargo consisted of hay, cattle, scrap iron and trestles owned by Contractor G. W. Katterjohn and a shiped from Clarksville where they were used in building a warehouse.

Captain James Koger returned yesterday from a trip to Nashville, Tenn.

The John L. Lowry is expected tonight or early tomorrow morning from Evansville.

The Clyde is due this afternoon or tonight from Waterloo, Ala., and will make a return trip Wednesday evening.

Capt. James F. Browninski, Jr., of Joppa, Ill., returned home this morning after spending Sunday here.

The Dick Fowler left on time this morning for Cairo with a good trip and is due back tonight at 9 o'clock.

The Ohio arrived on time from Golconda today and left at 2 o'clock this afternoon for a return trip.

The Pavonia was able to resume her harbor work for the Ayer & Lord Tie company today after her accident last night.

Mrs. G. W. Edwards, of Vicksburg, Ky., arrived this morning on the Bob Dudley for a visit to her son, Capt. W. F. Edwards, of the Clyde.

The ferryboat Robertson went to Golconda Sunday, returning at 7 p.m. Last night she carried an excursion to Metropolis. She is making her regular trips today.

On her initial trip since being rebuilt the Tomahawk, formerly the W. T. Hardison, came up from Mound City yesterday in charge of Capt. James Beatty and a party. She will go to the Tennessee for ties.

In making her landing last night when she returned from Golconda the ferryboat Robertson bumped into the south end of the wharfboat, knocking in some of her cabin supports. Little damage was done.

A poplar log raft valued at $4,000 was brought from the Tennessee river yesterday by the Cutaway 1 and delivered to the Lucas Lumber company. Some of the logs were 51 inches thick.

There is a fine boating stage here at present and the river continues to rise.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy."

Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she is given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

Capt. James F. Browninski, Jr., of Joppa, Ill., returned home this morning after spending Sunday here.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It cures female ills, and commutes radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

It is authoritatively reported that the Rock Island Railroad proposes to build a bridge across the Mississippi at Memphis. This bridge, it is said, will cost more than $3,000,000.

It is also said that the Memphis & Pensacola railroad proposes to build a bridge across the Mississippi at Helena, Ark.

OPTIMISTIC IS MR. HENRY CLEWS

FINDS POLITICS, MONEY AND BUSINESS BETTER.

Normal Conditions of Country Manifest Marked Improvement Today.

CROPS ALSO LOOKING WELL.

New York, Oct. 10. (Special)—The betterment in conditions previously referred to in these advices has already resulted in a fair recovery of values. Within the past two weeks many serious doubts disappeared or moderated; the market showing consequent relief. Among these doubts were the crops, the political outlook and the monetary position. In all three of these respects the outlook is distinctly better than a month ago. Corn is now practically out of danger from frost, and a 3,000,000,000 bushel crop is doubtless assured. At 50 cents per bushel this means the creation of $1,500,000,000 of new wealth. Corn is by all means our most important crop, inasmuch as it enters largely into the providing of food for man and beast, and is an element of growing importance in the industrial world. It also provides an immense quantity of freight for the railroads, both in its crude form and in the shape of meat and other products. The cotton crop has thus far escaped any damage from frost, and producers will be fully compensated by good prices for all shortage in supply. The south at least should enjoy uninterrupted prosperity.

Politics.

As to the political situation the smoke of battle has much cleared; the issues are plainly drawn, and the forces arrayed on both sides can be distinctly seen. It may be said that there is no longer any problem particularly disturbing in the political outlook.

As usual there is more or less fiery and picturesque oratory; yet it should not be forgotten that such displays always accompany the elections, and the candidates once in office are much more conservative than when out seeking votes. Politics is an enticing game, and often produces strange phenomena; its vicissitudes are many, and it is noticeable that those who figure largely in the public eye before election generally occupy a minor part in the actual making of legislation. One of the most encouraging developments in the politics of today is the better type of men who are being brought forward into public life. The new leaders are a strong contrast with those retiring. It is not only encouraging, but positively assuring that our people should show such a marked preference for men of high character and ability. Such traits prove our capacity for self-government and show that the country is not likely to go very far astray.

As part of the political situation, it is also refreshing to note a less radical tone in regard to corporations and capital. It is, of course, known that decisions of great importance will soon be delivered from the supreme court. These decisions will affect the whole industrial machinery of the United States. The great combinations may be obliged to change their organization, but no sane person desires or expects any confiscation or destruction of actual property. Any radical disturbance would mean disaster for the entire country, and the disaster would fall upon capital and labor alike. Fortunately, President Taft has appointed men of not only high character but of great self-posse and judgment. The supreme court cannot be suspected of being lacking in sympathy for the common people, and it evidently recognizes the first importance of dealing justly by all interests and preserving the principles and the liberty which have been the basis of American growth and prosperity.

Corporations.

Another satisfactory development is the change in attitude of many of our great corporations. They are beginning to recognize that their great power and responsibilities must be used with due regard to public welfare, and that any organization conducted in defiance to the latter and established law must eventually pay the penalty. The anxiety of many of our corporations to be considered lawful is noteworthy and satisfactory, and the disposition to conciliate public opinion in various ways is a most wholesome and encouraging symptom. The effect will be to at least moderate public hostility and to diminish the reason for and consequently the danger of radical legislation.

These are forces which work quietly and are not readily seen but the changes referred to have actually occurred and will in due time work out beneficial results. In other words, the political and economic tendencies of the day are toward amelioration of abuses which have exasperated the public, and there is consequently much less danger of injurious legislation to corporations than was the case a year ago.

It is not intended to convey the impression that our troubles are at an end, or that the course is clear. Nothing more can be claimed than a change

Money.
In the money situation there is no longer any danger of the squeeze anticipated this fall. The last bank statement showed the banking situation at the leading centers to be sounder and much better than anticipated. General trade is quiet, being less in volume than a year ago, and no great strain is likely to fall upon the money market so long as speculation is kept within reasonable bounds. At present there are no prospects of any violent outbreak in the latter direction. Capital is still scarce and somewhat timid. Investment conditions are good and the stock market is benefiting from the period of rest and readjustment which is taking place in other departments of our business machinery.

those wonderful worlds of light, about which the astronomers are telling such wonderful things in these days, the God that holds them in the hollow of His hand as they go whirling through space with such incredible momentum, that God loves me, but He is displeased with me."

When you get home tonight and lie down to sleep, and cannot—for I trust, in the kind mercy of God, some of you will not sleep when you get home tonight through thinking of what you have heard here—when you get home and cannot sleep, and all the rest of the house is asleep, and you lie there alone, alone with God, looking up into the face of God, and God looking down not into your face only but also into your heart, say to yourself, "That great God into whose face I am now looking up, and who is looking down not into my face only but also into my heart, that God loves me, but He is displeased with me."

Men and women, if I had to face tonight, so lost to all that is noble, to all that is good, to all that is truly manly, that he is willing to be a mere caricature of manhood as God created man to be? Is there a woman here tonight so lost to all that is true, to all that is womanly, that she is willing to be a mere caricature of womanhood as God created woman to be? That is what it costs not to be a Christian; men and women, if there were no other argument but that, I would come to Christ tonight.

God's Favor.

In the next place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of God's favor—we have all sacrificed God's favor through sin. The only way back to God's favor is by the acceptance of the Sin-bearer whom God has provided. How plain the Bible makes that. Turn to John III, 36: "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him."

"Oh," but some man says, "I do not know that I care about that. The favor of God? God is so real to me. He is so far away. If I have the favor of my neighbor, the favor of my employers, the favor of my friends in the club, the favor of my constituents in politics, I do not know that I care whether I have the favor of this far-away being that you call God or not."

Wait a moment; when you go out of this place tonight, look up at the stars over your head, and say to yourself, "The great God that made those stars, the great God that made

those wonderful worlds of light, about which the astronomers are telling such wonderful things in these days, the God that holds them in the hollow of His hand as they go whirling through space with such incredible momentum, that God loves me, but He is displeased with me."

And the best that any man or woman can attain to out of Christ is to be a mere caricature of manhood or womanhood as God created men and women to be.

Is there a man in this audience

tonight so lost to all that is noble, to all that is good, to all that is truly manly, that he is willing to be a mere caricature of manhood as God created man to be? Is there a woman here tonight so lost to all that is true, to all that is womanly, that she is willing to be a mere caricature of womanhood as God created woman to be? That is what it costs not to be a Christian; men and women, if there were no other argument but that, I would come to Christ tonight.

Christ's Testimony.

In the next place, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of Christ's acknowledgement in the world to come.—How plain the word of God is about that. Turn to Jesus' own words in Matthew x, 32, 33:

"Whosoever therefore shall confess Me before men, him will I confess also before My Father which is in heaven; but whosoever shall deny Me before men, him will I also deny before My Father which is in heaven."

You will often hear men say this: "If a man believes in Christ in the secrecy of his heart, even if he never confesses Him or says anything about it, God yet knows what is in his heart, and will accept him on the ground of the faith which he never confesses."

I challenge any man to show me one line in this book that countenances such a statement.

That Word says as plainly as day, and the Master Himself said it, in Mark viii, 38, "Whosoever therefore shall confess Me before men, him will I also confess before My Father which is in heaven."

That Word says as plainly as day, and the Master Himself said it, in Mark viii, 38, "Whosoever shall confess Me before men, him will I also confess before My Father which is in heaven."

That word says as plainly as day, "Whosoever shall confess Me before men, him will I also confess before My Father which is in Heaven, but whosoever denieh Me before men, him will I also deny before My Father which is in heaven."

You say, "Does not faith save?" Yes, and faith confesses; and the faith that does not lead to confession is no faith, and the faith that does not lead to confession will not lead to salvation.

I can imagine that great day, when the Lord Jesus summons all His own before the bar of God. There we stand in bright and glorious array, the Lord Jesus Christ at our head, and He turns to His Father and says, "Father, all these are Mine; they confessed Me upon earth before men, and I now confess them before Thee My Father in heaven."

But look, away over on the outskirts of that crowd is a man who hung upon the skirts of the Church of Christ on earth. His sympathies were with the church, his associates were with the church, but he is a coward, and had not the courage of his convictions. He was afraid of his business partner, of his associates in politics or in society, and he never came out and confessed Christ openly before men. But he thinks that because he hung upon the outskirts of the Church of Christ on earth, that he can hang upon the outskirts up there.

The Lord Jesus Christ now turns to him—I do not believe it will be so much in anger as in unutterable pity—and with a sad wave of His hand He says, "Depart, depart; you did not confess Me upon earth before men; I cannot confess thee before My Father which is in heaven." Men and women, that is what it costs not to be a Christian. Not to be an open, confessed, out-and-about follower of Jesus Christ.

7. Once more, not to be a Christian costs the sacrifice of eternal life, and means to perish for ever.—How plain the Word of God is about that. Take the word of Jesus Christ Himself in John iii, 14, 15, "As and Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up; that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life."

How plain it is. Believe—have everlasting life; not believe—perish. John iii, 16. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life; not believe—perish. John iii, 16.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life; not believe—perish. John iii, 16.

the Paducah Players This Season.

HOW THE TEAMS LINED UP.

Another step for a perfect record was taken by the High school football team when the machine of Coach Craig defeated the alumni team by a score of 20 to 0. The victory was easy as the former High school stars were unable to down the team work of the students. In the first quarter High school kicked off, and gained the ball, and by steady work scored when Hughes booted a goal from the twenty-yard line.

In the second quarter the alumnus braced, but were never able to cross the chalked line. Mitchell, for High school, got the ball on a fake pass and scored a touchdown, and Hughes kicked goal. Browning later was sent across the second touchdown. Score, 14 to 0. In the third quarter not a score was made, and both teams fought hard. In the final quarter High school shoved Ogilvie over for a touchdown and with the goal kicked by Hughes the final score was 20 to 0.

HORSE MAKES FAILURE OF WALKING A TRESTLE

A sorrell horse that attempted to walk the trestle near Luverne, Ky., eight miles west of Central City, about 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning delayed passenger train No. 135 of the Illinois Central railroad, due in Paducah at 9 a. m. 40 minutes. The train, in charge of Conductor Flynn, Engineer Mercer and Fireman McCann left Central City at 5 o'clock yesterday morning and when it was about to pull out from Luverne at daybreak a boy ran up to Engineer Mercer and told him a horse was on the trestle a short distance from the station. The train advanced slowly and when the trestle was reached the horse was found to have misjudged the distance between the ties and fallen between them. The train was brought to a standstill and the train crew with the assistance of volunteer passengers secured planks and succeeded in rescuing the animal after over half an hour's derrick work. The horse was led off the trestle on the improvised board walk and the train proceeded.

"The temors of the deep," remarked the captain of a transatlantic liner, "were perhaps never more thrillingly set forth than in the description by a young lady who last year made her first trip abroad. She kept a diary, very much like that of Mark Twain, when for seven days he recorded the fact that he 'got up, washed and went to breakfast.'
